Amusements

At the Princess Last Night.

Quite a large crowd was present at the Princess last night to witness its remarkable program, two of the leading features of which were "The Girl and the Gambler" and "The Battle of Two Palms." The pictures were remarkably clear and life-like and facial expression of the leading actors in "The Girl and the Gambler" were so true to life in similar circumstances that one could scarcely realize they were not witnessing the actuality in real life.

"The Battle of Two Palms" was an exceedingly fine production and made one almost feel that they were witnessing actual warfare. The picture represented an assault by the Italian artillery and infantry upon the Turkish position. Reconnoissances were taken from the top of the taller of two palm trees standing together, and from this the picture probably derived its name. The double-quick of the infantry, the artillery work, and the continual belching of the guns seemed to be taking place in reality, while quite a number in the audience jumped at the boom of the drum when the cannon was first supposed to have been fired, so real was the picture and so engrossed was the audience in what was transpiring on canvas.

The crowds continued all the evening, filling the house, and everyone seemed to be highly delighted with the evening's entertainment, and many complimented the splendid music furnished by the Princess.

The Dixie.

Those who have been attending the performances at the Dixie this week have been well repaid, for the photographs presented at this popular place the past several days have been among the best ever witnessed in Bryan. On Monday night Mr. Maurice Costello (who was the winner in the Motion Picture Story Magazine's popularity contest) was seen in the great Vitaphone production of "Two Battles," and his many admirers claimed he was at his best in this piece. On Tuesday (which is the Dixie's regular feature day) was presented the great Kalem production of "The Siege of Petersburg," in two reels. Some old veterans of the Civil war claim this was a first-class reproduction of this great battle. John Bunny was also seen in what many considered the funniest comedy he has ever appeared in. The title was "Working for Hubby," and it was a scream from start to finish. John is undoubtedly the funniest comedian appearing in motion pictures. These are just a few of the many fine pictures of the week, as they were all good. We really do not think there was a poor number on any of the programs during the week.

The new massive Wuritzer grand concert orchestra has been a regular magnet for the Dixie since it has been installed and the management have been very careful in their selection of music for this grand instrument which has the expression and tone equal to a human orchestra. The phrasing and expression of the instrument is simply marvelous. It is one of the largest built by the Wuritzer company. There are only two like it in the state of Texas. It has always been the policy of the Dixie management to give its patrons the best obtainable in the amusement line, and they have always succeeded admirably in reply for their efforts, as the Dixie is crowded every night.

On Tuesday of next week there will be two big features. One is a two-reel subject, "Don Juan and Charles V.," a beautiful Pathe hand-colored picture, presenting a renowned drama, moving all the emotions. It is not the plot of a weird imagination, but a master dramatization of an historical complication, abounding in tense situations that spur the heart to faster beating, disclosing scenic effects unrivaled for impressiveness, unfolding a love story romantic and sublime, and adapted from a novel which has delighted a million readers. The subject is sensationally stirring and the striking situations surpassing in stupendous splendor. The other is a Kalem, "Rube Marquand Wins," with Rube Marquand, the world-famous pitcher of the New York National League baseball team, and Alice Joyce in the leading roles. This will be a great picture for the baseball fans and a highly pleasing one for all, as there is a great dramatic plot to the piece. There are also a number of other fine pictures during the week.

THE CARRIAGE FACTORY

The special committee of the Commercial Club met last night with the president of the carriage company proposing to rebuild its burned factory in Bryan and perfected details of a proposition whereby Bryan can secure this industry. The proposition had to cover two points, one that the committee could recommend to the people of Bryan as a good proposition for Bryan, and again one that the president felt sure he could get his stockholders to ratify.

This concern is a growing, prosperous institution. It suffered a severe loss by fire in May. The earnings for the year were 20 per cent on the investment. The Commercial Club, learning of the fire, invited an investigation of this territory as a desirable site to rebuild. A careful investigation convinced the officers of the advantage of a move, and now Bryan can secure a most desirable industry to assist in making a Greater Bryan. A factory with a labor pay roll bringing in foreign money all the year.

The tentative proposition is that Bryan take $10,000 of a $40,000 stock corporation incorporated in Texas and have three of the seven directors, also pay $3000 of the moving expense. After discussing every feature of the proposition the committee was a unit in favor of the proposition.

As the work of contracting for a building must begin at once, also as contracts for the next season's carriage materials must be made by the carriage company before September 1 in order to secure present price options, definite action must be completed by Wednesday noon. It is now for the men of Bryan to stand with the committee and insure success. The committee is going to begin work Monday morning at 9 o'clock taking subscriptions for the stock. The terms are 25 per cent cash, 25 per cent in ninety days, and 50 per cent in one year with interest. Get ready to meet the committee with your help. The committee is working for you and deserves your support.

KILLING AT HARVEY

Body of LeRoy Nobles, a Negro, Found on Woodpile in Yard of W. R. Goen.

The dead body of LeRoy Nobles, a negro, was found on a woodpile in the yard of W. R. Goen at Harvey this morning. Sheriff J. D. Conlee was notified and left immediately to investigate the affair. He finally unearthed sufficient evidence to lead to the arrest of Lish Nelson, colored.

Justice A. K. Keith held the inquest, and it is reported that he decided from the evidence that Nobles met his death at the hands of Lish Nelson.

It was rumored in Bryan that after the inquest the negro jerked loose and ran. The definite facts in the case can not be learned until the return of Sheriff Conlee from the scene of the killing.

Doan's Kidney Pills proved superior to any other remedy I ever used. A relative also took this preparation with good results. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Emmel's drug store and do not hesitate to recommend them."

The above statement was given May 23, 1908, and when Mrs. Beard was interviewed on December 18, 1911, she said: "I cheerfully confirm my former statement given in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. The relief they brought has been lasting."

Not Paint

With linseed oil at $1, what sort of oil do you think they use in "paint" at $1.75 and $1.50?
That stuff is counterfeit paint. You can cheat yourself; you can't cheat Time or Weather.
Paint is a rubbery coat over wood and iron to keep-out water.
Counterfeit paint may look like it; counterfeit money looks like money.
What are all counterfeiters for? They are all alike.
